The Alaska Community Foundation (ACF), in partnership with GCI, is offering the GCI Suicide Prevention grant opportunity, which was founded by GCI in 2016.

Purpose

The goal is to fund projects and organizations that will help reduce rates of suicide in Alaska and promote mental wellness through strengthened community and personal connections. Organizations seeking project or operational support are encouraged to apply.

Priority will be given to organizations that:

- Empower Alaskans to work together to promote community wellness.
- Demonstrate measurable results, accountability, cultural sensitivity, and unify communities.
- Will impact communities that might not have easy access to suicide prevention support programs.
- Are rural organizations, meaning they work in communities not accessible by the road system and/or the marine highway system.

Key Considerations

1. Grant requests may be for up to $10,000 per organizations; the average award is approximately $5,000. In 2024, we expect to award $100,000 in total grants to 10-15 organizations. All awarded projects are required to be completed within one calendar year from the date the grant is awarded.
2. Applications will be evaluated on the following criteria:
 - Mission: to what extent is the organization or project focused on advancing suicide prevention and awareness?
 - Impact: what is the organization or project's track record in promoting meaningful and lasting change? Does the work address root causes?
 - Approach: To what extent does the organization or project use evidence-based and/or innovative approaches to driving this work?

Reporting Requirements

A final report is due 30 days following completion of the project and no later than one year plus 30 days after the grant award date. All reports are completed in ACF's online grant system using the same profile login and password used to apply for the grant. Failure to complete final reports on time may impact an organization's ability to receive future funding from ACF.
